

17th Confocal Raman Imaging Symposium

The 17th Confocal Raman Imaging Symposium will take place from September 27 to October 1, 2021, in form of a virtual event. The one-week online conference will provide a forum for scientific discussion to the Raman imaging community. It will feature presentations by renowned scientists, extensive poster sessions and online equipment demonstrations.

The scientific posters will be grouped into three categories: “Advanced Materials Analysis”, “Environmental and Geo Science” and “Life Sciences, Biomedical and Pharma Research”. The oral presentations will include a detailed introduction to Raman spectroscopy and microscopy as well as a selection of up-to-date research topics.

Poster abstracts can be submitted until September 20, 2021.
