

Virtual Raman Imaging Poster Summit 2020

The Virtual Raman Imaging Poster Summit offers the worldwide Raman community the chance to present and discuss their work from the convenience of their home offices. This online conference takes the place of the annual Confocal Raman Imaging Symposium for 2020. Participants will be able to discuss the presented research through an online chat tool and send questions directly to the poster authors.

The deadline to submit an abstract for the conference is September 15th, 2020.
